The information collected regarding disability statistics for the Creative Blueprint is defined using the following classification:

- § DDA disabled (currently disability) only
- § Work-limiting disabled only

DDA disabled (current disability) include those who have a long-term disability which substantially limits their day-to-day activities.

Work-limiting disabled includes those who have a long-term disability which affects the kind or amount of work they might do.

The figures that are present here can be considered as quite high.

There is some concern that, the official definition of disability using DDA and Work limiting approaches significantly over represents disabled workers in the sector.

Much of this is due to the perception of what a disability actually is. In our view, DDA and work limiting definitions are too broad and need refining.

Creative & Cultural Skills would direct the reader to the work conducted by Shape Arts in the sectors.
